Assistive Technology Conference of New England

2015

Thursday, November 19th
Friday November 20th

The Assistive Technology Conference of New England is dedicated to technology, people with disabilities, families and professionals.

Crowne Plaza Hotel
801 Greenwich Avenue
Warwick, RI 02886

Professional development CEUs will be provided for this event by the AAC Institute

There will be over 30 presentations

Since 1988, Rhode Island's annual conference on assistive technology has offered state-of-the-art workshops, information and exhibits on the technologies that enhance and change the lives of persons with disabilities of all ages. Attended by hundreds from Rhode Island and the North East each year, the conference focuses on uses of technology in education, communication, employment, recreation, home, and independent living. This year's conference will feature an extra full day of more in-depth workshops that will be presented by AT experts from all over the country!

There will be a vendor hall with assistive technology vendors on Friday November 20th
