Another shout out this month goes to Brian Coburn, our Adult Services Librarian. Maintaining his ever specialized reference skills, Brian has switched gears to helping the library expand library programming an learning experiences. The growth of adult programming has soared with Brian's work. In 7 months, Brian and Children's Librarian Joan Bloomfield have put on 158 programs with over 4300 visitors visiting just for programs. This is truly wonderful and I hope everyone appreciates the quality of professionalism that Brian and Joan bring to our library every time they step through the doors. Just as the building has moved and become new, Brian and Joan have worked to redefine themselves as the premier programming team for the Atascadero Library.

Please join us for the Women's History Month when the AAUW visits the library and brings to life history's most famous and pioneering women during the first week of March. Also the Friends of the Library will sponsor a library program with guest speaker Victoria Kastner, historian discussing Pioneering women's architect Julia Morgan, Saturday March 7, 2015 at 10:30AM. Call 461-6162 for more information.

Please make our library a wonderful place and visit. Just as we appreciate your continued support, we love seeing you at the library.

Joe
