

Seven TABC boys participated in the V'ata Banim Shiru a cappella competition raising money for the Koby Mandell Foundation. The competition was held at the Rambam Mesitva in Lawrence on Wednesday, March 11.

The 4 competing teams (HANC, MTA, Rambam, and TABC) performed 2 songs each, followed by compliments and constructive criticism from the judges.

Our TABC team presented an exciting performance. The judges' constructive criticism between the two TABC performances had an impact because there was a marked improvement both in their stage presence and in their singing for the second entry.

We are proud of our a cappella singers. The team was a student initiative and student run club. The students worked hard to rehearse for their performance. They accepted their non-winner status with honor, raised some money for the Koby Mandell Foundation, and had a great time doing it. They've already begun thinking about next year!

Kudos to Yosef Kagedan ('16) for initiating, organizing and leading the group, and to the rest of the a cappella singers: Moshe Davis ('17), Ariel Fromowitz ('16), Yechiel Hyman ('18), Amiel Rimberg ('16), Moshe Stuart ('16) and Meir Tolchin ('16).
