HOW TO HIRE AND KEEP QUALITY EMPLOYEES

The biggest challenge facing any business is finding, hiring, and keeping quality people. Unfortunately, during the usual interview process we often hire who we think is a positive and productive employee, only to find out after a few months that we have made a mistake. We then ask ourselves, “What happened to that positive, energetic person I interviewed?” Many people are very good at putting on a mask during interviews, which covers up what’s inside. We need a more research-based and guaranteed way of hiring people. Therefore, learn proven techniques for increasing your chances of hiring top quality employees.
