Trusts as Parties to Business Agreements

Sir Walter Scott wrote, "Oh what a tangled web we weave." Buyers seeking to purchase a business that is partially held in a trust may face this tangle more than others. They wonder, "With whom am I actually doing the deal?" and, "What are my legal rights should the deal fall through?

New Changes to Obtaining Discovery in Wisconsin for Use in Other States

Obtaining discovery in Wisconsin for cases pending outside the State will soon become a lot easier. Until the end of the year, a party in out-of-state litigation will still need to obtain the appropriate commissions from the court handling the underlying litigation and then file those commissions along with the necessary petition materials in a Wisconsin court to have a subpoena issued for testimony or documentary evidence to be given or produced here.

Limitation of Liability

From time to time in drafting an agreement, one of the parties may wish to limit contractually any remedies or liability that the other party might seek at a later point in time. For example, a software developer might seek to limit any possible liability associated with the development of the software or with respect to the contract in any way.
