Volunteer for this cutting-edge conference AND save $200.00.

The National Conference on Undergraduate Research (NCUR) is an interdisciplinary conference where students from around the world will present their research.

OLLI Volunteers are needed in 2 key roles to make this conference a success:

- Registrar: Extroverts with good oral communications skills will provide attendees simple instructions for registration, contact information, and directions to sessions.
- Moderator: Individuals with some knowledge of an academic area(s) and comfortable with serving as timekeeper will engage presenters and audience members by asking questions and making relevant comments.

As an OLLI Volunteer for NCUR, you will be able to access plenary sessions by internationally renowned speakers without paying the $200.00 registration fee.

Join your OLLI colleagues. Click the link below and complete the NCUR Volunteer Application.
