

PARENTING THROUGH PEACE

Peace Learning Center — July 19, 2015 2:00-5:00 PM

The Four Planes of Development

Maria Montessori said that children go through four distinct phases of development from birth to adulthood. In this interactive workshop, Peace Learning Center volunteer, Tamara Castleman, will help parents, parents-to-be and other caregivers understand these stages of development and show participants how this understanding can help foster a peaceful home environment that encourages individuality and growth.

Open to the public. Free. Registration required.
Child care will be provided for children 5-12.

Register at: www.peacelearningcenter.org/parentingthrupeace

Park Passes will be provided to registrants.

Tamara Castleman is a parent, educator, and artist who is passionate about helping families coexist peacefully, in a way that empowers each family member to meet his or her highest potential. Tamara has a Bachelor's degree from Indiana University, and a Masters of Education with an emphasis in Montessori Integrated Learning from Endicott College. She is also certified as a Montessori teacher for children aged 6-12 by The Institute for Educational Studies (TIES).