

Piano

When I play the piano
I fly across the keys
To the music
That they are making
Each step creates a new note
And their dance creates a song
I am the conductor
Telling them where to step
And where to go
When the song is over
And I'm about to leave
The piano beckons me
To play some more
I guess one more note won't hurt