

CREDIT.COM GUEST CONTRIBUTOR PROMO FOR CHAPTERS

Dear CFP® FPA Members,

Not sure if you saw the media request from Credit.com, but wanted to bring it to your attention.

Credit.com is looking for FPA members who would be willing to regularly write articles on a variety of personal finance topics. Here are a few examples:

- Budgeting
- Debt Management
- Insurance Costs
- After Death -- dealing with the finances of a family member or loved one after they pass away.
- Family Finances
- Paying for College
- Divorce Planning

Your articles would appear with your byline and links back to other article pages on your own website. Credit.com syndicates articles to a variety of major online publications, including Yahoo Finance, MSN, AOL, ABC, NBC, CBS, Fox, Money.com, USA Today and more. They have contributors who write once a month and some who write once a week or more. They work closely with contributors to develop story ideas and headlines they know will do well with their partners, and every story is edited and returned to the contributor for approval.

FPA Public Relations Director Ben Lewis is gathering names of interested members who want to contribute articles to Credit.com. If you are interested, please send Ben an email at BLewis@OneFPA.org and be sure to include the following information:

- Name
- Company
- City/State
- Email
- Phone
- Subject areas you are interested in writing about

Once received, Ben will make a virtual introduction of you to Credit.com's editorial director who will then follow-up with you on next steps and to answer your questions.

Thank you for your time and attention on the terrific marketing opportunity!
