

Eliminating Barriers to Learning

Through the Early Identification of Student Mental Health Issues

Every school staff member has a unique role in influencing a climate that is supportive and positive for all students. This training offers those interested in mental health and wellness the opportunity to learn tools to identify, recognize, refer, and support students with mental health needs in a respectful and culturally responsive manner.

This comprehensive five-module training will focus on the early identification of mental health issues and effective classroom and school wide strategies, and is appropriate for individual classroom teachers, district and site administrators, school nurses, mental health professionals, counselors, school social workers, other school staff, community partners, or school site teams.
