About Hunter

Hunter Farrell serves as the Director of World Mission for the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). Hunter served as a Presbyterian mission worker in the Congo and Peru for 15 years, teaching New Testament and mission and working in Christian community organizing. Hunter earned his Master of Divinity at Fuller Theological Seminary and his doctorate in cultural anthropology examining the relationship between culture and violence in a Peruvian Andean community. Among his greatest teachers have been the Congolese and Peruvian Christians with whom he worked. He was ordained by Grace Presbytery.

Hunter's articles on mission, justice, and congregation-based mission work have been published in The Latin American Journal of Theology, Christianity Today, Horizons Magazine, and several books. Hunter is a Presbyterian minister and he and Ruth have three children. They live in Louisville, KY, where Ruth serves as the coordinator of the Presbyterian Hunger Program.

If you have any questions, or would like more information please contact Chris Roseland, (502) 439-4930, Church Support Associate.
