

Greg & Ashley

Greg Popowitz, JD 2009, thinks “love at first sight” is too cliché. But he and Ashley Prager Popowitz, JD 2009 met at the end of their 1L year at NSU Law through mutual friends. Greg got to know Ashley socially and wanted to be more than “just friends” but Ashley was already dating someone else...

So Greg was patient, remaining her friend over the next few months. Late in 2008, Greg met one of Ashley's friends at an NSU Jewish Law Students Association (JLSA) event. After the event, Ashley thought it would be a great idea for Greg to go out with her girlfriend, so she played matchmaker. When Ashley's friend told her how much she enjoyed the date with Greg, Ashley realized she made a mistake! A few days later, Ashley got tickets to a Miami Heat game, knowing that Greg is a big fan. They began dating, became "facebook" official, and even experienced graduation together since they were seated alphabetically. A romantic at heart, Greg surprised Ashley during a weekend trip to Marco Island, where he arranged for the hotel to write "Will You Marry Me Ashley" in large letters in the beach sand. They married in 2012, and purchased their first home in 2013. They are expecting a baby boy in May 2014. Scroll down for photos.
