

THE MISSION OF GOD

IN AN INTERCULTURAL & INTERRELIGIOUS WORLD

Monday, November 2, 2015

Cardinal Keeler Center
4800 Union Deposit Road
Harrisburg, PA 17111

In ways perhaps never before imagined Christians of North America are called to live out and witness to the Gospel of Christ in a world and nation that is religiously and ethnically diverse. In order to carry out our Baptismal mission in this context Christians need to cross borders interreligiously and interculturally. This is especially true for those commissioned for ministry through Ordination. The Reverend Doctor Heaney will offer suggestions and provide models of how Lutheran, Episcopalian, and Roman Catholic clergy and laity can, in the context of our Christian mission, cross these borders in our life and ministries.

The day begins at 9:00 AM and ends at 3:00 PM. Lunch will be provided.

The Reverend Robert S. Heaney Ph.D., D.Phil.

*Assistant Professor of Christian Mission, Virginia Theological Seminary, Alexandria VA
Director of the Center for Anglican Communion Studies*
