

COMMUNITY MEETINGS ALLOW OIG FEEDBACK FROM CITIZENS

To spread the word about the OIG's work and receive feedback from the citizens it serves, Inspector General Ed Quatrevaux and members of his team made presentations before five neighborhood associations in March and April.

The Inspector General addressed the Mid-City Neighborhood Association at its monthly meeting Monday, March 14, 2016 at Warren Easton High School.

OIG Investigator Terence Barrett joined the IG to talk with the Pontchartrain Park Neighborhood Association Saturday, March 19, 2016 at the Joseph Bartholomew Clubhouse.

Mr. Quatrevaux greeted New Orleans Fire Superintendent Tim McConnell before addressing a Thursday March 24, 2016 meeting of the NEWCITY Neighborhood Partnership at the Sojourner Truth Neighborhood Center.

The IG made a presentation Monday, April 4, 2016 to the New Zion City Preservation Association at Bridge House.

Mr. Quatrevaux sat with members of New Orleans' newest neighborhood group, the Tulane Canal Neighborhood Association Wednesday, April 20, 2016 at their meeting at Avery's Restaurant.

Community groups with requests for speakers from the OIG may call Laura Paul at (504) 344-4884 or send an e-mail to lpaul@nolaoig.gov.
