CSO at The Morton Arboretum

The Morton Arboretum will again host the world-renowned Chicago Symphony Orchestra in a series of concerts in the summer of 2015. On Thursday, the valiant Richard Kaufman leads the fearless Chicago Symphony Orchestra in a concert of Hollywood's most epic and heroic film scores, including selections from Austin Powers, Spider Man, Star Wars, Superman, James Bond films, and more. On Friday, conductor James Feddeck leads this evening of Russian masterpieces. The delightful "Circus Polka" leads into Stravinsky's first ballet score, the dazzling Firebird. The concert ends with Rachmaninov's well-loved second symphony, brimming with gorgeous melodies. And, on Saturday, Glinka's rousing overture to the opera Ruslan and Ludmila opens the program, followed by Haydn's masterful trumpet concerto performed by Principal Trumpet Christopher Martin. Berlioz' transcendent and fantastical symphony, inspired by the anguish of unrequited love, brings the concert to a captivating close.
