

STEM GIRLS DAY OUT

Presented by Celanese

Interested in introducing your 4th-12th grade girl to STEM careers and educational opportunities?

STEM Girls Day Out is a FREE experiential learning opportunity for female students across Northern Kentucky/Greater Cincinnati!

Tuesday, July 19, 2016 from 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

Locations Include: Celanese, Duke Energy Envision Center, Gateway Community & Technical College, General Cable, Mazak, NKU, St. Elizabeth Healthcare, Thomas More College & Toyota

On July 19, 2016, female students from across Northern Kentucky and Greater Cincinnati will have the opportunity to participate in Girls Day Out, a free hands-on learning experience supported by local employers.

WHAT IS IT?

Girls Day Out program is designed to promote interest in STEM careers (science, technology, engineering & math) and educational opportunities. The workshop will allow for personal and in-depth career exploration. The students will learn about STEM careers first hand by touring and visiting a local company.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Targeting female students in grades 4-12

WHERE? Students will be assigned to one location. First come, first serve. As locations are confirmed, they will be shared and students placed as space allows. Students will need to be dropped off at the assigned company site the morning of the event. You will receive directions via email.

REGISTRATION:

Visit <http://bit.ly/STEMGirlsDayOut2016>

This is a free event covered by our generous sponsors and host site companies. Lunch is included.

