Ready to get serious about sustainability?

REGREEN® is the nation's first and most comprehensive green residential remodeling program. The program is based on the REGREEN Residential Remodeling Guidelines®, a set of sustainability best practices that emphasize green product selection, team integration and whole-systems thinking. Filling a unique niche in the marketplace, REGREEN is designed for professionals who want to create healthy, high-performing spaces. While it was developed for residential renovations, REGREEN is also appropriate for hospitality design and historic renovations.

Interiors-Focused Training

The REGREEN Implementation Workshop addresses the industry-specific challenges interior designers face when renovating a client space. Building on foundational knowledge from the REGREEN Guidelines, the workshop employs faculty-led instruction and team charrettes to prepare designers to identify, evaluate and implement strategies to green their projects. It is the capstone course in the REGREEN Trained™ certificate program and offers 0.8 HSW CEU (IDCEC), which can also be used for LEED CMP. Taught by veteran interior designer Annette Stelmack, Allied ASID, LEED AP BD+C, sustainable design consultant at Inspirit-llc and co-author of Sustainable Residential Interiors.
