

BIOGRAPHY

John P. Alamodin is the Community Outreach Training Coordinator for the Southern Nevada Substance Use Training Grant Project at the University of Nevada Las Vegas (UNLV). He has a Bachelors in Business Administration and Masters in Social Work from the University of Hawai'i at Manoa. Mr. Alamodin is a Licensed Social Worker and is also serving in the U.S. Army Guard with the 36th HHC Combat Aviation Brigade as a Behavioral Health Officer. He served in active duty from 2010-2014 and deployed with the 1st Medical Brigade, FT Hood Texas and 101st Airborne Division, FT Campbell Kentucky in Operation Enduring Freedom in 2012-2013 as a behavioral health treatment provider and Officer-in-Charge of Combat and Operational Stress treatment facilities. Mr. Alamodin holds certifications in Combat and Operational Stress Control, Traumatic Event Management, Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing Therapy, Prolonged Exposure Therapy, and Cognitive Processing Therapy. Originally from Kane'ohe, Hawai'i, he has also worked in community health and behavioral health, medical treatment facilities, in-patient psychiatric treatment, and Native Hawaiian agency settings. Mr. Alamodin has taught at the university level as an instructor for Social Work in Health and Mental Health practice, and coordinated multi-site field practicum placements. He has also taught in the areas of: multi-disciplinary practice in health and mental settings; community development; direct practice in individual, family, & group therapy; military Social Work practice; combat and operation stress control; traumatic event management; and treatment approaches for post-traumatic stress disorder, as well as supervised and mentored graduate students in field placements. Mr. Alamodin has also served as an instructor for Batterers Intervention & Prevention Program, Family Advocacy Program, and provider resiliency training.