

The Value of School Gardens:

Gardens provide experiential learning that ties into existing curriculum subjects such as chemistry, biology, math, social studies, history and English. Gardening brings these subjects to life, especially science, and helps students discover how they fit together.

(Infographic credit: Nutrients for Life Foundation)