| 4:00 – 6:00 PM | New Orleans Mystery with Maggie Steber (Class sold out) | Meeting Room |
| | For those who have previously signed up for this class, this session is a night time search for photographic mystery in the streets of New Orleans with world renown photographer and storyteller Maggie Steber. The streets, architecture, bars and ally ways of NOLA will serve as the backdrop as participates create a story of “mystery” inspired by the location and by looking at various photographers, who have used light and shadow to create photo essays and films in the past. We will meet for three days at 4PM Wednesday-Friday and conclude with a final edit on Saturday morning, allowing students plenty of time to enjoy other lectures during the meeting. Please bring your notebook computer and thumb drive. Participants will spend evenings taking their images for later critique. | |
| 6:00 – 7:00 PM | Informal gathering | Hotel Lounge |
| 7:00 PM | Dinner on Your Own, or with one of our photo guides. | |

2:00-3:00 PM Creole World Photographs of New Orleans and the Latin Caribbean Sphere with Richard Sexton Meeting Room

Creole World: Photographs of New Orleans and the Latin Caribbean Sphere, is both a book and an exhibit. The genesis of this project goes back to 1974, when at age 20, I set out for Latin America behind the wheel of a Datsun station wagon. New Orleans was the first and only North American stop on the tour. The purpose of the trip was to test my mettle as a photographer. My only camera, which was at my side throughout the trip, was a Leica M4. It was the camera with which I took my first serious photographs and with which I learned to be a photographer. Today I'm using the digital descendants of the M film camera—an M Monochrom and M240. I'll be discussing Creole World from the perspective of a lifelong Leica M photographer and describing what this camera system meant to this project.
