The Emory 2016 Emeritus College Presents: Eight Physicians Share Their Expertise on Timely Medical Topics Wed 10:00-11:00 a.m.

Jan 13
Marilynne McKay, MD. Emeritus Professor of Dermatology, who formerly served as Chair of the Department of Dermatology and was the Director of Emory’s Office of Continuing Medical Education.
Topic: “Taking your skin outdoors.”

Jan 20
Nanette Wenger, MD. Professor of Medicine in Cardiology, served on National and International Committees, the recipient of many prestigious awards and is considered one of the country's most-respected experts on coronary heart disease in women.
Topic: Matters of the Heart: “Why can’t a woman be more like a man?”

Jan 27
John McGowan, Jr, MD. Professor, Department of Epidemiology, Rollins School of Public Health, and Professor of Medicine in Infectious Diseases and Pathology and Laboratory Medicine (Medical Microbiology)
Topic: “Increasing Antibiotic Resistance – A Special Concern for Older Individuals”

Feb 3
Bruce Ribner, MD, M.P.H. Professor of Medicine in Infectious Diseases
Medical Director of the Emory University Hospital Serious Communicable Diseases Unit.

Feb 10
David Rimland, MD. Emeritus Professor Medicine and former Chief of Infectious Diseases at Atlanta VA Medical Center
Topic: “Growing Old with HIV”.

Feb 17
Kenneth Brigham, MD. Emeritus Professor of Medicine who formerly served as Associate Vice President for Health Affairs at Emory and is coauthor of Predictive Health: How We Can Reinvent Medicine To Prolong Our Best Years.
Topic: “Ponce’s Dream: The Promise and the Challenge of Predictive Health”

Feb 24
David Vega, MD. Professor of Surgery, Director, Heart Transplantation and Mechanical Circulatory Support Emory Hospital and Chief, Cardiac Surgery
Atlanta VA Medical Center
Topic: “Left Ventricular Assist Devices for Bridge to Heart Transplantation and for Destination Therapy”

Mar 2
Edmund Waller, MD, PhD. Professor of Medicine, Pathology, and Hematology/Oncology; Director of the Emory Bone Marrow Transplant Program, and Director for Clinical Trials and the Associate Director for Clinical Research for the Winship Cancer Institute
Topic: “What is personalized medicine”?