

"That's right, I remember that I also use one of those to go to school, when I was smaller. And because thanks to my will and help from God and my desire to succeed now in Germany I'm learning a third language."

Starlet Wiltshire, January 18, 2016

2007 Wisconsin/Nicaragua Partners Youth Ambassador

The important thing is the will to succeed

Hello Good morning

Tuesday 8th of May, 2007

my name is Starlet Wiltshire i a'm eighteen years old i live in the pacific of nicaragua i am from the atlantic coast af nicaragua my mother name is Dorla my father name is Ricardo both live in the atlantic coast af our contry i live on the pacific and i studying inglish and the high school on the pacific and i am very happy becuase i like tu speak abuot my contry with next people and lard new things and have new experiences with next people , thak you very much for this opprtunity have a good evening

"Wiza, Amy" <Amy.Wiza@uwsp.edu> escribió:

Greetings 2007 Youth Ambassadors,

This is Amy writing, although we have not met yet, we'll be meeting soon, so until then I would like to introduce myself by e-mail. I work in the Wisconsin/Nicaragua Partners office (in Wisconsin) and I have been working on finding host families for you in Wisconsin. I will tell you that the families are very excited to meet you and spend time with you. Soon, we will have a brief outline of information about your host family.

I am Starlet. I am eighteen years old. I am from the Atlantic Coast of Nicaragua. I was selected to be a Youth Ambassador in the Wisconsin Nicaragua Partners Program because I speak English and have good grades in school. I am very happy to have this opportunity because there were a lot of us applying for this and only fifteen of us were chosen. I know I am here to learn new things and teach new things with other people. I have been going to SPASH school for five days and I will say it is very different from our school in Nicaragua. I have had many experiences with other students and now I am living with the Benzine family in Stevens Point sharing experiences and learning new things. I am very happy to be in the United States of American and also in Wisconsin.