Jeff Diamond signing Live to Air

Live to Air is a fast-paced tale of murder and intrigue, love and violence, hope and despair. A thriller in the classic sense of the genre, Live to Air brings the reader into the mysterious work of television news.

"The plot is ripped straight from the headlines, and the book is sharp and fast-paced, a page turner that will hold your attention right down to the chilling climax." — BARBARA WALTERS

"Characters are charismatic, devious, and frightening — straight out of the annals of the best murder mysteries, except this one is set in the high-flying world of television news."

— DEBORAH ROBERTS, ABC NEWS.

Jeff Diamond is an award winning journalist with forty years of experience in television news.
