
Facilitators Barbara and Dan Dick will utilize case studies and small group interaction to develop healthy boundaries for clergy and other religious leaders in a congregational setting.

Topics include: The nature of power, building and maintaining healthy boundaries, self care, social media, grace in separation and introduction, the congregation's role in boundary vitality, and healthy relationships with children and youth.

Sponsored by the Wisconsin Council of Churches, Wisconsin Conference of the United Church of Christ, Wisconsin Annual Conference United Methodist Church, South Central Synod ELCA, John Knox & Milwaukee Presbyteries, and the American Baptist Churches in Wisconsin.

An ordained minister of The United Methodist Church serving as the Director of Connectional Ministries for the Wisconsin Annual Conference, Dan is a nationally known speaker, teacher, and author of thirteen books on spirituality, stewardship, congregational development, research, and spiritual gifts discovery, and an advocate for a more loving, inclusive church for the 21st century and beyond. Dan worked for the General Board of Discipleship in Nashville, Tennessee for fourteen years in stewardship, congregational and conference planning, leadership development, and research. Dan is an avid reader, with a deep passion for biblical studies. His doctoral work was in extracanonical writings of the ante-nicene period, and his doctor of ministry work was in stewardship education. He has a love of research and critical thinking, and he continues to share his study and analysis of trends impacting the church through his popular blog, United Methodeviations (doroteos2@wordpress.com).

A member of Wellspring United Methodist Church, Barbara serves as facilitator of the Spiritual Formation Resource Team for the Wisconsin Annual Conference; as a delegate to the 2016 General Conference; as a member of the UMW Editorial Board; and on the board of directors for The Crossing, the UW Madison ecumenical campus ministry. She works as a freelance editor for Abingdon Press, Westminster John Knox, Baker, and other religious publishers on a wide variety of leadership, worship, and preaching resources, including The Wesley Study Bible. She is coauthor of Equipped for Every Good Work (with her wonderful husband Dan). Barbara believes in the strength of relational leadership for the church, shared between caring, informed clergy and laity who understand the responsibility of the freedom we have chosen in following Christ. Barbara is the proud mom of Greg, a true inspiration and a firefighter in Asheville, N.C., and of stepson Joshua, a fine young man and a working actor in Washington D.C.
