

We Need your Help

Here's what Glen needs to perform "The Incarnation of the Logos":

Something to Sit on and Something to Put Things on

1. Chair. Old-looking or simple upright wooden chair (no arms).
2. Stool or small table. Bar-stool or chair height, depending on the sight-lines. (To hold a wreath of candles and a glass, which I will bring.)

And Something to Unwrinkle Costumes (An iron and ironing board).

Space to Perform in

Anything from a large theater to a small living room. Set up ideally begins two hours ahead. (More time may be needed if there are lighting options to be set up or adjusted.)

Steps to Get On and Off the Stage (if there is a stage)

Steps in the middle in front of the stage.

Illumination

No lighting changes are necessary; general wash of light over the whole stage area is fine.

One or Two People to Help

1. Someone to help set up.
2. Stage manager to give a 5-minute warning and "places" before we start, (and to turn the house lights off if necessary).
3. Someone to introduce the performance and say:

Please turn off cell phones; unwrap any hard candy now.

No eating, drinking or photographing during the performance (If you need to, you are invited to drink when the performer drinks.)

Please don't take notes; there is a bibliography in the program.

The play runs about 75 minutes with no intermission

4. Turn house lights off.
5. Hosts: Please don't start the applause; silence is allowed. There may or may not be applause so don't feel obliged to start it. Please allow a long silence at the end. Then gently raise the house lights or stand up and say something simple so people feel free to go.

Programs

Copies for estimated audience (one page, two-sided and folded).

Something to Eat

A meal about an hour and a half before the performance. (I don't usually eat red meat; chicken or fish is fine.)

Financial Support

The cost for each venue, to support Glen's ongoing work and to cover transportation and other expenses, varies and is negotiated on an individual basis. Please enquire. We also ask that you provide lodging (a room in someone's home is fine) and meals.
