Dave Rosenbaum
Vice President of Talent
Illumination Entertainment

Dave Rosenbaum is currently Vice President of Talent for Illumination Entertainment, an all audience film production company financed by Universal Pictures. Their 2015 movie, MINIONS, and the DESPICABLE ME franchise rank as some of the most profitable movies of all time grossing billions (USD) at the box office and in merchandise. Dave has been with Illumination since its inception and, in addition to finding world class talent, he oversees the story teams across all feature films, marketing, video games and theme park rides.

Prior to Illumination, Dave worked at Dreamworks and was an Executive Producer for Screen Imagination Agency in Europe. He earned a master's degree from the American Film Institute and his directorial debut, THE PICTURE OF DORIAN GRAY, launched Josh Duhamel.

Dave attended the University of Richmond on the Welsh Theatre Scholarship and earned a dual degree from the Robbins School of Business. He served as Student Government Vice President for Administration all four years and founded the first of many Senior Citizen Proms. He received the E. Bruce Heilman Leadership Award, the H. Gerald Quigg Ambassador Award, ODK's Virginia Leader of the Year and the University's Mace Award.

Dave was born in Washington, DC and currently lives on the beach in Los Angeles.
