Family Meeting Workshop: The Cost of Aging

Have you ever asked yourself if you can afford to grow old?

Have you considered the cost of aging, of long-term care or of needing assisted living arrangements. Even if you have hopes to age in place or receive assistance from family members, the costs to do this, or the costs to them, can be staggering? The reality is that someone turning age 65 today has almost a 70% chance of needing some type of long-term care services as well as health and financial support in their remaining years.

Join Michael Baker of Target Insurance Services of PA to learn more about how to prepare for this possibility and to learn about long term care options.

About Michael: Mr. Baker has 18+ years of experience in the insurance industry. He has devoted the past 16 years of his career to the Long Term Care insurance market. Since 2009 he has served as Director of Brokerage and Affinity markets for Target Insurance Services of Pennsylvania. In 2007 and most recently in 2012 by the American Association for Long Term Care Insurance recognized him as one of the leading long term care insurance agents in the country. He is also involved in his local professional associations, the National Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors (NAIFA), and currently serves as President for NAIFA Greater Harrisburg and is also a member of the National Association of Health Underwriters (NAHU). He is also an approved continuing education instructor for the Pennsylvania Long Term Care Insurance Partnership program. He is a graduate of Lock Haven University.
