

This month, we pay homage to the amazing bars of Peru and their national spirit Pisco. The Peruvian bar scene is like a wonderful parallel universe where the drinks are every bit as mature as ours but are made with pisco and often exotic Amazonian fruits. The drinks below are among the most common you would encounter in a Peruvian bar.

Pisco Sour

Choice of Pisco + $1

The official drink of Peru (Contains raw egg white) List of Pisco on next page.

Pisco Punch $13

The Mack-Daddy of pisco drinks. Italia Mosto Verde pisco, house pineapple infused gum syrup, and key lime juice.

El Capitaine $9

Think pisco martini (or French Capitán)
~by Nathan

Chilcano $9

A simple, refreshing marriage of house ginger beer, pisco and lime

Chilcano Passion $8

The two drink peruvian bartenders love to riff on are pisco sours and chilcanos. This riff is with passion fruit and pomegranate juice.
~by Nathan

Chinguerito $8

A traditional drink made during pisco grape-stomping parties. Cinnamon, pisco, lime, and crushed grapes.

Algarrobina $11

A rich, creamy pisco drink made with syrup from the Peruvian algarrobina tree
(Contains egg yolk)