

CHICAGO'S NEIGHBORHOODS

With 77 distinct communities, Chicago truly is a city of neighborhoods. Each has its own flavors, traditions, culture and personality, as well as dozens of things to see and do. Here are just a few of Chicago's great neighborhoods. Discover more at choosechicago.com/neighborhoods-and-communities

Lincoln Park

Anchored by the 1,200-acre park and one of the nation's only free zoos, Lincoln Park is a pleasant mix of historic buildings, great shopping, trendy restaurants and hip nightlife.

Don't Miss

PLAY VIDEO

Armitage Avenue Shopping Corridor

Discover boutique shops, salons, restaurants and thrifty second-hand stores along Armitage Avenue — as well as Halsted Street and Webster Avenue. The beautiful Victorian row houses complement the chic retail storefronts below, making for a day of pure shopping bliss.

Peggy Notebaert Nature Museum

An urban gateway to wildlife, nature and science, this museum features hands-on exhibitions perfect for visitors of all ages. Learn about Chicago's ecology, interact with live animals and get lost amongst the butterflies in the Judy Istock Butterfly Haven. (2430 N. Cannon Dr.)

Victory Gardens Theater

A Tony Award®-winning theatre company, Victory Gardens has been producing dynamic and inspiring plays since 1974. Catch a show at the historic Biograph Theater, and prepare for a truly memorable experience. (2433 N. Lincoln Ave.)

Chow Down

Floriole Cafe & Bakery

From humble beginnings selling French pastries at the local Green City Market, Floriole has transformed into a neighborhood favorite, serving up specialty breads, sandwiches and, of course, pastries. Stop by for a cappuccino and chocolate-filled croissant to start your day. (1220 W. Webster Ave.)

R.J. Grunts

After exploring Lincoln Park Zoo or the Lincoln Park Conservatory, refuel with a meal at R.J. Grunts, a funky establishment with a devil-may-care atmosphere and menu that is sure to please every palate. (2056 N. Lincoln Park W.)

Balena

Italian-inspired cuisine and worn-in décor make diners feel right at home at this Bib Gourmand restaurant. Share one of Balena's artisanal brick-oven pizzas, or enjoy savory plates of hand-made pastas and spit-roasted meats, fish and vegetables. (1633 N. Halsted St.)

©Adam Alexander Photography

©Daniel Kelleghan Photo

©Adam Alexander Photography

©Adam Alexander Photography

PLAY VIDEO

Welcome

to Your Day on
Clark Street in Lincoln Park

Food. Fashion. Fun.

Clark Street in Lincoln Park is home to the historic and the hip, the classic and the contemporary.

Chicago Begins Here

Experience Chicago's great people, places, and stories at the Chicago History Museum.

Get Ready for Snow!

Opening in fall, Regenstein Macaque Forest will showcase the cool culture of Japanese snow monkeys.

MAKE it
LINCOLN
PARK

Clark Street
Lincoln Park

Visit ClarkStreet.com