

Do you have any stories of gift delivery that are particularly memorable?

I've enjoyed watching the face of a young child when they first see a brightly wrapped gift with their name on it; hearing a heart-felt "God bless you!"; sometimes praying with an aunt or grandma and reminding them that God loves them. Many times it seemed as if an angel unlocked a door into a closed apartment complex or guided us to the right home in a housing project. Some of our delivery team members have some great stories they could tell.

How is the Gospel spread via Angel tree?

Our phone and delivery team volunteers pray and can speak a testimony to family members or the children. We always leave gospel literature and scripture with each family. And we pray for opportunities to involve the family in the life of the church--this is one area I hope we can do much more in the future to connect people with our church or another church perhaps closer to their neighborhood.

What is the best way we, as a body, can serve in the Angel tree ministry?

Select a child and pray for them by name, purchase an angel tree gift, serve on a delivery team on Saturday morning December 20, help lead an outreach effort during the year, volunteer to serve as coordinator for next year's program.
