

Event Invitation

A Gathering of Green Teams: August 14, 2014

Our climate, like our society, is dynamic. As such, there is a need for businesses to develop climate adaptation plans. Doing so would reduce environmental degradation while protecting long-term profits.

This conference will bring together California green teams, community organizations, and subject-matter experts to create conversation and promote innovative action towards a sustainable business model. Corporate green teams will be able to build a network of like-minded colleagues who can help build the better brands of tomorrow. Keynote speaker Nurit Katz (Chief Sustainability Officer, UCLA) will address the importance of including climate resilience in your company's plan. In three sessions, respected speakers will equip your team with the tools needed to overcome some of the major barriers to implementing successful sustainability strategies. Special focus will be given to green office buildings, green team funding, and employee transportation.

By inspiring, engaging, and providing attendees with the tools to succeed, our goal is to enhance current leadership surrounding the sustainability of California companies.
