Connemara Concerts and WNMC 90.7 FM are pleased to announce a very special evening of music featuring Robin Lee Berry and Glenn Wolff. The performance is part of a developing concert series at the Unitarian Universalist Congregation and is set for Saturday evening, May 21st at 7:30 p.m. The Unitarian Universalist Congregation which is located at 6726 Center Road (M-37) in Traverse City.

Robin Lee Berry is an eclectic songwriter, notably hard to pigeonhole, with roots in jazz and contemporary folk music. An accomplished guitar player and singer with several independent recordings to her credit, Robin was included in Red House Record's "Going Driftless: An Artists' Tribute to Greg Brown" which benefits the Breast Cancer Fund. In her own writing Robin pays homage to many styles with passionate and intuitive energy. Her subjects are love, life, children, growing up and evolution.

Bassist Glenn Wolff, has been performing and recording with Robin for many years, recently adding slide guitar and dobro to their duo performances. He is also bassist in the Neptune Quartet and Jazz North.

This evening of music by Robin Lee Berry and Glenn Wolff will showcase their unique talents in a way that will capture the heart of every listener. Berry's voice is like "clear spring water gushing out from a deep place in the earth. It goes right to your heart." – Greg Brown, Red House recording artist. Glenn's work on bass, slide guitar and dobro frames each song with added artistry.

The performance is set for Saturday evening, May 21st, 2016 at 7:30 p.m. at the Unitarian Universalist Congregation on Center Road in Traverse City.
