

Beth Chaim Congregation is seeking a Music Leader

Beth Chaim Congregation - Contra Costa County's vital Jewish community - is looking for a dynamic, energetic Jewish Music Leader who can inspire the young people of our community.

The Music Leader will be an integral contributor to our portfolio of events and programs, which include worship, celebration, youth education, community service, and continuing adult education in a vibrant, embracing, enriching environment for over 500 residents in the Tri-Valley.

Responsibilities

- Participate with Rabbi and school principal on creating Friday night and Sunday morning music program
- Implement music curriculum for student body and family events that connects prayers and lesson plans with music and strong values
- Lead all-school music program at Sunday School sessions (9 AM - 12:15PM) during the school year; teach and play music in the classrooms during Sunday School
- A commitment of a minimum of 15 Friday night services within a calendar year. Possibly additional Fridays per request. Audience could include up to 100+ people

Qualifications

- Able to play at least one instrument
- Possesses a strong, animated singing voice
- Demonstrated creativity around connecting music to lesson plans
- Three months' experience as a song leader in a school, camp, or synagogue
- Working knowledge of Jewish prayers and music
- High-energy personality with ability to project voice effectively
- Comfortable in front of large groups of children and adults
- Able to manage large groups and any distractions that may arise
- Demonstrated flexibility with regard to schedule and lesson plan changes
- Open to feedback from community on music program

Salary: $8,000

To Apply

Please send a cover letter stating your qualifications, and your resume to Admin@BethChaim.com.

1800 Holbrook Drive | Danville, CA 94506 | 925.736.7146 | www/BethChaim.com