

2015 President's Medals Presented at The State Convention

Each year the International President presents personal awards to recognize Lions and Leos who have performed significant service and leadership contributions to the association. The awards are:

International President's Certificate of Appreciation: given for significant service to the association. (Fourth Highest Award Given by the Association to Its Members)

International Leadership Medal: given for a significant leadership contribution to the association. (Third Highest Award Given by the Association to Its Members)

International Presidential Medal: given for both leadership and services contributions to the association. This award is special because the International President presents only 775 of these awards worldwide during his presidential year. (Second Highest Award Given by the Association to Its Members)
