Membership Information

Mission:

The purpose of the Electrical League is to represent and promote the best interests of its membership and their products and services, within the Ohio electrical industry. The League strives to formulate a high ethical standard for guidance, promote education and awareness of electrical uses, and to collect and disseminate information relating to the electrical industry.

The Electrical League of Ohio was founded in 1909 and is the oldest electrical trade association in the United States. The Electrical League is a non-profit organization formed to achieve the maximum opportunities for the League, its members and the electrical industry through long-term strategic planning.

The Electrical League strives to provide members with educational, professional development and networking opportunities. The League serves as an information interface between the various lines of business within the industry.

The membership consists of architects, contractors, distributors, educators, engineers, inspectors, manufacturers, manufacturers' representatives and electrical utility companies. The League focuses on being the core instrument in communication throughout the industry. The League promotes unity in order to create the best environment possible for conducting business within the Ohio electrical trade.

Membership in our association offers:

- Opportunities to network with colleagues.
- Educational meetings and seminars featuring industry speakers on timely subjects.
- Events promoting recognition for achievements and meritorious service by industry members.
- Scholarship program for qualifying candidates in the Ohio region.
- World wide access to League membership through directory listing of products and service providers.
- Alliances with related trade associations.
- Quarterly newsletters promoting events, new products and services, industry/market trends.
