

Discovery Center Teens

A Program of The Discovery Center for Science and Technology

For students in grades 8-12

- Community Service
- Career Awareness
- Leadership Development

- Making friends
- Gaining Skills & Knowledge
- Sharing science with others

The Discovery Center

818.879.2021

www.discoverycntr.org

m-chuck@discoverycntr.org

In addition to earning community service credit, DC Teens have the opportunity to meet other teens with similar interests, explore science and science-related careers, learn leadership skills through organizational work and event planning, and have fun!

DC Teen assists a child at Family Science Night at a local elementary school.

DC Teens meet with Myth Busters stars, Jamie Hyneman and Adam Savage after their performance at the Thousand Oaks Civic Arts Plaza. DC Teens led hands-on science activities in the lobby of the theater prior to the show.

End of Year & Senior Send-off Party

Where to Find DC Teens

At Family Science Nights... in local elementary schools where Teens share the excitement of learning science

At Meetings... learning about careers in science & technology

At Community Events... like Earth Day and Super Science Sunday

Why Become A DC Teen?

- Community service credit
- Learn about careers in Science, technology, math and engineering related fields
- Strengthen leadership skills
- Help others... Be A Mentor to a younger child!
- Meet teens from other schools
- Have fun!

Apply online:

<http://www.discoverycntr.org/pages/teensa/Application.pdf>

Discovery Center Teens is a certifying organization for The President's Volunteer Service Award.

facebook

Discovery Center Teens