

2015 Fall Native Foods Workshop: Áama

November 16 at the Yreka Housing Authority

The Karuk Tribe invites the Yreka community to participate in our Fall Native Foods Workshop that features one of our most important staple Native Foods, the fall salmon. Food Security staff and a Cultural Practitioner will teach participants the art of pressure canning raw pack and kippered salmon, as well as teaching the water-bath methods for non-Native vegetables grown in the Yreka Community Garden.

When: Monday, November 16 10:30 am to 3:00 pm

Where: Yreka Housing Authority
1836 Apsuun
Yreka, CA 96097

For more information, please contact:

Food Security Project Coordinator,

Lisa Hillman (530) 7-3446, x. 3016 or

lisahillman@karuk.us

United States Department of Agriculture

National Institute of Food and Agriculture

This project was funded by the USDA-Agriculture and Food Research Initiative of the National Institute for Food and Agriculture Grant #2012-68004-20018.