

American Institute of Architecture Students
Bowling Green State University
College of Technology, Architecture, and Applied Engineering
400 E. Poe RD | Architecture Studies Building
Bowling Green, Ohio 43403

AIAS Fall 2014 Lecture Series

Location: Bowen-Thompson Student Union Theater, Room 206

Time: 7:00 pm – 8:30 pm

- Gary McCauley- Architectural Photographer Ltd.; September 24, 2014
 - “Garry McCauley is an Architecture Photographer with an emphasis on interiors. He has been shooting commercial assignments since 1982, Gary has nurtured a love of visual communication and developed an eye for detail and a photographic style that has garnered several awards from both his peers and industry-related design competitions. Based in Cincinnati since 1989, Gary has focused primarily on location photography. While he has always appreciated the control that studio photography affords, he prefers the unique challenges and opportunities that location work offers”.
- Jonathan Barnes- JBAD Architecture, Principle; October 8, 2014
 - “Jonathan Barnes of Jonathan Barnes Architecture and Design. Jonathan earned his Bachelor’s Degree in Environmental Design from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. He received the degree of Master in Architecture from Harvard University Graduate School of Design in Cambridge, Massachusetts. He began work in Chicago, Illinois, in 1986 as an architect with Skidmore Owings & Merrill. Returning to Columbus in 1993 to form JBAD which is a small, highly acclaimed architectural firm located that has been involved in a variety of project types in the Midwest for over 10 years. The practice integrates technical expertise and creative design solutions in a multi-disciplinary approach. The work includes residential, commercial and institutional architecture, historic preservation, interior design, furniture design and retail design”.
- Sharon Harr – Univ. of Michigan Architecture Graduate Professor; October 29, 2014 (Sponsored by Katerina Ray)
 - “Sharon Haar is professor and Chair of the Architecture program at Taubman College. Her current research investigates the role of entrepreneurship, design innovation, and global networking in the transformation of architectural practices devoted to social activism and humanitarian relief. Professor Haar has taught at Parsons School of Design in New York and at the University of Illinois at Chicago where she was professor of architecture and the Associate Dean for Research at the College of Architecture, Design, and the Arts. She received her Bachelor of Art from Wesleyan University and her Master of Architecture from Princeton University”.
- Amy Fidler & Jenn Stucker – Graphic Design SWEAT Program; November 5, 2014
 - “Amy Fidler and Jenn Stucker are co-founders & organizers of the Summer Workshop for Experimentation and Thought (SWEAT). Amy received her BFA from BGSU and MFA from School of the Art Institute of Chicago, Visual Communication and Jenn earned her BFA from BGSU and her MFA from Eastern Michigan University, Graphic Design. Both dedicated faculty in the Graphic Design department at Bowling Green State University and co-founders of AIGA Toledo. The SWEAT program founded by Amy and Jenn creates an outlet to give designers and design students the opportunity to collaborate, create compelling, poignant work and engage in some summer fun. And as with all good, hard work, SWEAT is required”.

Held by the Fine Arts Department –

Location: Eva Marie Saint Theater, Wolfe Center

Time: 7:00pm

- James Elkins – Art Historian & Critic, October 22, 2014
 - “James Elkins is E.C. Chadbourne Professor in the Department of Art History, Theory, and Criticism, School of the Art Institute of Chicago, where he received his MA, MFA and PhD. Elkins is a published author of many art history, theory and scientific books. Hosted by the Edwin H. Simmons Creative Minds Series of the Arts Departments at Bowling Green State University.