

Teachers,

Please join us for a preview of the new standards for Family and Consumer Sciences—and make your mark on courses to be used by teachers across the state.

The Ohio Department of Education and the Ohio State University College of Education and Human Ecology have worked closely over the last year to build these standards as well as courses based on the standards. Now, it's time to develop instructional strategies for each course.

Given your experience and success with students, we invite you to spend a day with a small group of your peers in Columbus, where you will examine courses specific to your hospitality and tourism specialties and identify activities, projects, and other strategies that teachers can use to deliver course content to their students. Expect to share and hear loads of great teaching ideas to incorporate in the courses—and to use with your classes when you get home.

Date: Wednesday, June 10, 2015

Time: 9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

Where: FFA Center 717 E. 17th Ave; Columbus, OH

Lunch will be on your own

RSVP: Please contact Mary Jo Kohl at maryjo.kohl@education.ohio.gov by June 4th to let us know if you'll be able to attend.
