

Quebec Report for January

The province of Quebec is experiencing very cold weather with warm weather and rain on each end of the cold weather. There is a lot of ice in the Montreal area. More rain planned for the weekend so that could mean more ice. There has been a lot of snow in the northern regions but very cold.

The Quebec Golf Course Superintendents has hit a great milestone; we are 50 years old this year. There are planned events throughout the season with the 50th anniversary dinner at the summit of Mont-Tremblant. This is in conjunction with our winter educational program January 21-22 in Mont-Tremblant.. I hope to see a lot of golf industry people there to help celebrate this important year in the Belle Province.

Looking forward to heading west to Vancouver for the CITCTS February 17-21. Great speakers and a great seminar program is waiting for you to take advantage of. Please join us in Vancouver and take in an education session and or meet up with colleagues you only see once or twice a year. Look forward to seeing you there.
