Why Join the CGSA?

CGSA is Essential to the Superintendent Profession in Canada!

Our ability to be influential and reach that vision is directly related to the size of our membership.

The benefits derived for both you and your facility from being a CGSA member are far greater in value than the annual cost of membership.

Become a member today! Enjoy the benefits, help the CGSA to grow and reach its vision and give yourself a chance to win a great prize!

Joining the CGSA will benefit you, your facility and your profession. Grow your career and share in making the CGSA a strong voice for superintendents across Canada!

Features and Benefits of Membership

FEATURES	BENEFITS
CGSA Accreditation Program	Increased recognition of skill set; increased salary; increased employment possibilities
CGSA Award Program	Increased exposure and awareness for you, your golf course, your profession and your association
National Tournament Program	Recognition of your individual achievement; recognition of the value of the superintendent role to the facility; recognition of the skills required to succeed in the profession
Conference and Trade Show	50% off member rate the year you join, the latest research and knowledge presented by industry experts; interaction with peers, industry leaders and experts and industry related researchers and academics; in-depth learning opportunities specific to golf course management that are focussed on issues relevant to the Canadian golf industry; an amazing opportunity to reconnect with old friends and make new ones
Personal Benefits	Take advantage of group pricing; Automatic AD&D coverage as a paid member – no need to apply; Flexible and comprehensive health and dental coverage – select and pay for only what you need; No additional cost for AD&D and Law Protector coverage
Communications Products	Delivered to your desk and/or computer; Ready access to relevant, specialized information about the profession, the job and the industry; Comprehensive, regular, reliable
Services	Notice in your e-mail or on the Member website of jobs advertised through CGSA within a few minutes of it being posted; Chance to participate and be sent data from each of the two major surveys; Savings of $100 annual subscription fee to access the most complete library of turf related information ever assembled; Policy development and representation of the profession in a consistent, logical, reasonable and rational manner in discussions with golf and turf industry, provincial and federal governments and government agencies and other organizations
Education and Professional Development	The principle mandate of the CGSA is to provide opportunities for professional development. Theoretically every opportunity that we offer from Committee participation to GreenMaster magazine and from our trade show to the keynote speaker at our conference is about educating our members. Specific education programming includes seminars offered at the provincial level; webinars offered free to members, pre conference, specialized learning workshops and conference education programming and access to past conference education programs through the Live Learning Centre. The benefits include: regular, leading edge programming at a reasonable price; accessibility for all interested parties at low cost; dependable, knowledgeable, expert speakers; opportunity to develop network of industry experts and to build personal relationships; opportunity to influence subject matter and speakers.
