Standard Golf Introduces 'Tour Pro' Bunker Rake

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa. — Standard Golf, the world's leading manufacturer of golf course accessories, has introduced a new line of high-quality bunker rakes that feature wider, more versatile heads and an all-new, premium handle. The Tour Pro Bunker Rake, available with 20" (51 cm) and 25" (63 cm) heads, is designed to produce smooth, level, playable surfaces with minimum effort.

The pioneering grooves on the topside of the rake head ensure tournament quality surfaces using either the top or bottom of the rake. A single self-tapping screw (included with purchase) is all that's required for rake assembly.

"The Tour Pro Bunker Rake is for any golf course who wants the highest quality product for their players," said Jim Nygren, Director of Marketing at Standard Golf. "When players pick up a subpar or damaged bunker rake, it reflects poorly on the course. The Tour Pro assures this never happens. Plus, the price of this rake makes it affordable for even the tightest budgets."

Tour Pro Bunker Rakes are best paired with the all-new Gator Grip Handle, a more durable and weather-resistant handle that comes available in 60" (152 cm) and 72" (183 cm) lengths. Traditional composite handles and aluminum curved handles are also available.
