

"It's time for courage, it's time for creativity and it's time for boldness to tackle climate change." – California Governor Edmund G. Brown health evaluation energy forestry biodiversity climate change monitoring stakeholder engagement transportation resilience governance preparedness implementation agriculture technology habitat water innovation planning

2014 California Adaptation Forum

August 19-20, 2014 • Sacramento, California
Sheraton Grand Sacramento Hotel

Climate change is having widespread impacts on California's economy and environment, and will continue to affect communities across the state in the future. To address this issue, the Local Government Commission and the State of California are pleased to announce the first California Adaptation Forum. The program will reflect the diverse challenges facing California communities and bring together leading voices to share insights on how to respond effectively. Join us at the forum and connect with a comprehensive network of adaptation leaders who have a strong commitment to addressing these impacts.

Conference Participants:

- ▶ Transportation Professionals
- ▶ Health Professionals
- ▶ Planners, Architects, and Urban Designers
- ▶ Local Elected Officials
- ▶ Community Members
- ▶ Businesses
- ▶ Water Agencies
- ▶ Air Districts
- ▶ Nonprofits
- ▶ Flood Control Agencies
- ▶ Agricultural Professionals

Contact:

Kif Scheuer | LGC Climate Change Director
(415) 717-4809 | kscheuer@lgc.org

Follow the conference:

Facebook.com/LocalGovernmentCommission
Twitter@LGC\_media #CAF14

Mark your Calendars: Call For Session Proposals opens 2/20. For details, visit:

CaliforniaAdaptationForum.org