Keynote Presenters

Joan Chittister, OSB

"Clearly, the purpose of wealth is not security. The purpose of wealth is reckless generosity, the kind that sings of the lavish love of God, the kind that rekindles hope on dark days, the kind that reminds us that God is with us always."

The Rt. Rev. Robert Wright
Bishop, The Episcopal Diocese of Atlanta

"God is a real world God, which means God is in the common things of this world. These common things show us God's genius and provide opportunities for our transformation. Money is one of these things. Money is neither positive nor negative. Money is simply a tool. If the Bible says anything about money, it says that this tool, used wrongly, will wound our souls and our communities."

The Rev. Charles La Fond
Canon Steward, St. John's Cathedral
The Episcopal Diocese of Colorado

"Raising money is and has always been mission work and gospel work. It gets at our most basic instincts around scarcity and abundance, existence and the nearness of death. This work is challenging because it changes how we think and how we live, sometimes literally shifting neuropath ways. But it is also moving us closer to the life and practice of Jesus."
