Diamond V

"Jeramie already has strong relationships with dairies in Idaho, Oregon, and Washington," says District Sales Manager Chad Davis. "He's committed to providing value-added solutions to our dairy customers. He's going to be another unifying addition to the Team and we look forward to him representing Diamond V."

For the past seven years, Jeramie has been employed by Zoetis and its predecessor, Pfizer Animal Health. Most recently, he held the position of Dairy Productivity Specialist in the Pacific Northwest region of Idaho, Oregon, and Washington. Previously, he was Quality Milk Manager for the company in Kern County in Southern California.

Jeramie was raised on a dairy farm in Moses Lake, WA. He later became a partner in the farm with his father and twin brother. In 2003, he began taking classes at Big Bend Community College while continuing his role in the family dairy partnership. Jeramie then entered Washington State University, where he held the position of Student Herdsman at the university dairy, supporting his education and expanding his involvement in the dairy industry. Jeramie graduated in 2008 with a Bachelor of Science in Animal Science.

"Jeramie already has achieved much in his career the areas of milk quality, mastitis prevention, fresh cow health, calf health, and genetics," Chad says. "We are pleased to add his skill set and expertise to our Pacific Northwest-Southwest Dairy Sub Team."

Jeramie and his wife, Julie, have four children – Bailey (20), Kathryn (15), Joshua (12), and Madelyn (8), and reside in Caldwell, ID. In his spare time, Jeramie enjoys hunting, fishing, and camping with his family.

Way to go Emily and Manny!

Diamond V Dairy Team members Emily Achen and Manny Soares have passed Phase I of the Young Dairy Leaders Institute (YDLI) earlier this year in Mesa, AZ. The three-day leadership training program, organized by the Holstein Foundation, included dairy farm and processor tours sponsored by Dairy Herd Management magazine.

YDLI Class 9 includes more than 50 young dairy leaders from 18 U.S. states and Ontario, Canada. In Phase II, the leadership students work at home on projects due on a monthly basis, then come together again in February 2016 for the final Phase III of enhanced leadership training.

For more information, see the DHM story, visit The Holstein Foundation, or view the YDLI blog.

Please join me in wishing our young Dairy Team members all the best as they build their dairy industry leadership skills – Emily (eachen@diamondv.com) and Manny (msoares@diamondv.com).

At any time, please let us know if you have a question for Diamond V Dairy Advisors and would like to see answers in DairyAdvisor.
