Risk Management and Insurance presents Meet and Greet

Find out about the Risk Management and Insurance program

The Risk Management and Insurance (RMI) program is designed to produce a new generation of professionals with the critical thinking skills, specialized knowledge and managerial acumen that insurance companies seek in their leaders.

An aging workforce means that in the next ten years, more than 50 percent of Baby Boomers will retire, leaving companies with upper management positions to fill. This program was designed to give tomorrow's executives the first-hand experience and the preparation to take on the complex challenges facing the insurance and risk management industry.
