

Philip & Aline Coghlan

Philip and Aline have been married for 63 years. Aline grew up in Louisville, KY, and Philip was from St. Louis, Missouri. They met while in college and dated for four years prior to getting married. God blessed them with 6 children [5 boys & 1 girl]. They now also have 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Two of their sons, Philip and Patrick, live here in Williamsburg. One grandson, Chris Coughlan, plays baseball with the Chicago Cubs. The proud grandparents watch every game they can.

After being in the Navy Philip finished his education and then worked for 30 years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Aline is a psychotherapist; she started and ran a Family Counseling Center for more than 20 years. Prior to moving to the Williamsburg area they lived in the small town of Fairfield, PA, about 12 miles from Gettysburg. During that time Philip and Aline did volunteer work with the “Mission of Mercy”, a Medical Van that traveled to locations in the surrounding area giving free medical and dental care. They hope that all PC residents will become part of their new “extended family”.
