

Oxford Presbyterian Church Presents!
"A workshop on connecting with younger generations"
Saturday, February 6, 2016 Oxford, Ohio
9:15 a.m.-12:30 noon
with Jason Santos

Jason Brian Santos is the Mission Coordinator for Youth, College, and Young Adult Ministries at the Presbyterian Mission Agency and the National Director of UKirk. He is an ordained teaching elder in the PCUSA and holds a Ph.D. in practical theology from Princeton Theological Seminary. He is the author of A Community Called Taizé (IVP, 2008) and Sustaining the Pilgrimage (IVP Academic, 2016). He currently resides in Louisville, KY with his wife, Shannon and his two sons, Judah and Silas (aka Tutu). In his spare time, he plays and designs board games. Registration from 8:45 am- 9:15 with coffee and refreshments

Workshop 1: (9:15- 10:30) Intergenerational Ministry as the foundations for making connections

Workshop2: (10:45- 12:30) Young Adult Faith Formation: Absolutely everything you need to know about emerging adulthood.

Have you ever wondered why there aren't many young adults in your congregation? Or, better yet, have you ever asked the question, how do we minister to the college students and young adults we have in our community? If your answer is yes, this workshop is for you! In this comprehensive seminar we will unpack the current state of young adult faith in order to illuminate why the mainline church is struggling to reach this generation. Particular attention will be placed on how young adults think about religion, faith, and spirituality, and how we might more faithfully journey with them during this life stage.

Registration and Contact Information:

Oxford Ohio is home to Miami University, with enrollment of over 18,000 students, with many from around the globe. This setting will provide a laboratory for reflection on the challenges and opportunities for connecting with young adults in the church's broader mission field.
