In January 2016 we got a conversation started about Race, Class and Gender in Early Learning. Over 20 people participated! Let's keep this powerful conversation going. During three follow-up sessions this spring we will establish a common language about race, class, and gender; we will practice evaluating curriculum with an equity-lens; we will support each other in having difficult conversations. Bring your listening ears, a big heart, your experience working with children, and a desire for equitable and bias free programs.

Continuing the Conversation about how Race, Class, and Gender Impact our Early Learning Programs

Thursdays March 17, April 14, May 19
6-8pm
at Windham Regional Career Center

We highly recommend participation in all 3 sessions.

Hosted by: The Directors Group, Building Bright Futures, and Windham Child Care Association

Facilitated by: Mikaela Simms and Angela Berkfield of ACT for Social Justice
