Car History Assignments

If you are interested in learning the life history of your car, perhaps we can help. Some cars have histories and documentation that have survived, others may not be so lucky. This is an investigative journey to tell the story of the car and its owners. The scope and depth of the assignment are variable based on your desires. This can and often includes the photographic documentation of a restoration in progress. If you are interested in learning the history of your car, please return to the home page and send us an email by clicking on the "Contact via Email" link.
